Clouds Could Delay Space Flight Tuesday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Predicted heavy clouds in the launch area posed a threat today to astronaut Gordon Cooper's space flight. But Project Mercury officials said preparations were continuing for a launching Tuesday morning.

A weather summary released by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said that "morning cloudiness over Cape Canaveral tomorrow will cover at least half the sky, with some periods during the morning hours having nearly overcast conditions."

If conditions are favorable, an Atlas rocket is scheduled to blast off between 8 a. m. and 10:30 a. m. EST to start Cooper on a 22-orbit flight, lasting more than 34 hours.

A heavy cloudy cover over Cape Canaveral would prohibit vital camera coverage of the five-minute Atlas boost phase of flight. The photographic record is needed in case something goes wrong.

The weather forecast said conditions would improve later Tuesday and probably would be better by Wednesday morning. There was hope that a northeast wind blowing into the area today would shift sufficiently to carry the clouds away by launch time.

Elsewhere around the world, the weather remained favorable.

The prediction for the primary Pacific area southeast of Midway—where Cooper would land at the end of the 22 orbits—was for moderate seas and winds.

As the scheduled liftoff time neared, Cooper ran through a brief simulated countdown and launching in a trainer at Mercury Control Center. He again reviewed the flight plan and star charts and scheduled a final mission review with all key officials late in the day.

"I'm ready," he said. "All we have to do now is load, lox and launch."

Everything appeared to be "go" for the scheduled blastoff Tuesday morning that is to put Cooper into orbit longer than any American—more than 34 hours if all works right.

A vast recovery network of ships and planes was spread out around the globe — the greatest such effort in history—ready to snatch up Cooper if it becomes necessary.

Three Railways Plan Merger

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Three railroads announced agreement today on merger-acquisition plans which, if approved, would put Southern Pacific into Kansas City and Union Pacific into Chicago and St. Louis.

Rock Island is the third railroad.

The plan, which must be okayed by directors and stockholders and by the interstate commerce commission.

Union Pacific and Rock Island will merge. Southern Pacific will acquire Rock Island lines into Kansas City at a price to be determined.

Can't Collect Union Dues for Politics

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today that a railroad worker cannot be forced to pay that portion of his union dues which might be used for political purposes.

Justice Brennan announced the court's ruling in a complex decision in litigation that has been going on for 10 years and which, he said, has not yet run its course.

Justice Harlan wrote a separate decision dissenting in part and concurring in part with the ruling. Justice Goldberg disqualified himself.

The ruling affected specifically about 30 North Carolina employees of the Southern Railway. They have contended it would be illegal to force them to pay dues to unions when they opposed any use of such dues money by unions for political purposes.

Brennan said the case had to go back to the North Carolina Supreme Court where two determinations would have to be made.

First, Brennan said, the state court must find what expenditures disclosed by the records are political. Then, he went on, a determination must be made of what percentage of total union spending is for political purposes.

Brennan said unions should be left free to spend parts of dues money collected from non-dissidents to support union political activities.

Brennan said the court thought it appropriate to suggest also that the lower court order that objectors, who proved their right to relief be given a refund of dues in the same proportion that union political expenditures bear to total union expenditures.

Harlan in dissenting in part described the majority's views as "an expansive thrust which can hardly fail to increase the volume of this sort of litigation in the future."

Court Tosses Out Negro Convictions

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court threw out today the convictions of 11 Negroes under 1959 anti-sit-in laws but the court affirmed convictions of two other Negroes for refusing to leave a lunch counter when requested to do so by the manager.

The 11 Negroes were freed by the court because, it said, there was no proof that they had created a disturbance at three downtown Little Rock lunch counters in the spring of 1960.

They were charged under Act 226 of 1959 which prohibits causing a disturbance in a public place.

The two Negroes whose convictions were affirmed were charged under Act 14 of 1959 which makes it a misdemeanor to refuse to leave premises when told to do so.

The laws were part of a package drawn up by Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett. They are generally referred to as the "sit-in" laws.

A rash of anti-segregation demonstrations broke out in Little Rock in 1960 as part of a south-wide movement. A biracial committee worked out some problems earlier this year and now many Little Rock lunch counters serve Negroes.

The convictions upheld were those of James Frank Lupper and Frank B. Robinson, Negro college students who were arrested at the Blass department store counter. They were fined $500 and sentenced to 30 days in jail.

Lupper and Robinson were charged under both sit-in acts. The court upheld their convictions only under Act 14.

It was a 6-1 decision. Justice Sam Robinson dissented. Justice Frank Holt disqualified himself because he was the prosecuting attorney who handled the cases in Pulaski Circuit Court. Boyd Taekett, a Texarkana attorney, was made a special justice to hear the case in Holt's place.

Justice Jim Johnson, who wrote the majority opinion, said the convictions of the two were upheld because refusing to leave a place of business when asked amounts to trespassing.

The court rejected the argument that Act 14 violated the equal protection and due process clauses of the 14th amendment to the U. S. constitution.

It said the law was not restricted to Negroes.

The forecast called for partly cloudy skies and cooler weather in the northern portions tonight and Tuesday. Highs of 85-92 were predicted for today and lows tonight were expected to range from the mid 50s in the northwest to the low 70s in the southeast.

Widely scattered thundershowers during the 5-day period were expected to total around one-half to one inch in the northern portions and one-quarter to three-quarters of an inch elsewhere.

Overnight lows reported around the state this morning were generally in the mid 60s to the mid 70s.

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP)—Fred N. McCollum Sr., 63, of Forrest City Daily Times Herald for 20 years, died Sunday at a Memphis hospital.

He was a member of the State Police Commission.

From there he moved to Forrest City in 1943.

At Clarendon he published the Monroe County Sun, a weekly newspaper, until it was destroyed by fire. He had a part interest in the Merri-Mack Insurance Agency at Clarendon, was a member of the Clarendon School Board and also farmed. He was a former member of the Board of Stewards of the First Methodist Church.

Sentences in Louisiana Overturned

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court unanimously overturned today jail sentences given three Negroes in Louisiana for refusing to move from the "white" section of a courtroom to a section where Negroes were sitting.

The high court's order cited an April 29 decision in a similar case from Richmond, Va.

In the Richmond case, the court said that a state may not require segregation in a court room.

In the Louisiana case, the three Negroes took seats normally reserved for white persons in the 19th Judicial District Court in East Baton Rouge Parish on Nov. 29, 1962 during a trial before Judge Fred S. LeBlanc.

When the Negroes refused to move, Judge LeBlanc held them in contempt.

He sentenced the three to 10 days in jail and $100 fines, with an additional 30 days in jail if the fines were not paid. The Negroes were jailed, but Justice Clark of the Supreme Court on Dec. 19, 1962 granted them release on bail pending final action by the high court on their appeal.

The appeal to the high court was filed on behalf of Pearl Lee E. George, Laura Lee S. Harris and Willie Lee B. Harris.

Argentine President Survives

By SAM SUMMERLIN

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentine President Jose Maria Guido appeared today to have survived the ninth crisis of his year-old regime after maneuvering controversial Gen. Enrique Rauch out of the key post of interior minister.

All other Cabinet members resigned Sunday, following Rauch's charge that the administration was riddled with corruption and supporters of ex-dictator Juan Peron and ex-President Arturo Frondizi. Rauch finally handed in his resignation also after apparently getting assurance that some of those he wanted out would be removed.

Guido withheld action on the other ministers, but he snapped up Rauch's resignation. He named Gen. Osiris Villegas, former army operations officer, to be interior minister. The post ranks next to the presidency.

Government sources expected Guido to drop four civilian ministers whom Rauch had attacked and War Secretary Benjamin Rattenbach, who had denounced the interior minister for causing the Cabinet rift.

Rauch touched off the crisis last week by demanding replacement of most civilians in the Cabinet by military men, sweeping arrests and drastic overhaul of Argentina's penal laws to weed out disciples of Frondizi and Peron.

Rauch claimed the support of Gen. Juan Carlos Ongania, the army commander in chief who seconded his call for a crusade against corruption.

Rauch quickly ran into opposition from Rattenbach, however. The war secretary said the main goal of Guido's caretaker regime was to fulfill its promise to hold general elections July 7 to restore a constitutional government. Rattenbach expressed fear that Rauch's crusade might hold up the elections, a move he said could not be tolerated.

Also Saturday in downtown Hope John Robinson, 67, Malvern, formerly of Hope, stepped from the curb and into the path of an auto driven by Richard Phillips. Mr. Robinson sustained a badly fractured leg and lacerations. He was taken to local hospital by a Herndon-Cornelius ambulance where he was treated and then removed to a veteran's hospital at Little Rock.

Rockefeller Buys Large Cattle Ranch

MORRILTON, Ark. (AP)—One of the largest Hereford cattle ranches in the country, the Turner Ranch at Sulphur, Okla., has been sold to Winthrop Rockefeller for an undisclosed price.

Roy I. Turner, former governor of Oklahoma and owner of the ranch, announced the sale jointly with Rockefeller at Rockefeller's sixth annual sale of Santa Gertrudis cattle at his ranch on Petit Jean Mountain Saturday.

The Turner spread covers 10,000 acres and the sale included 2,000 head of pure bred Hereford cattle and 250 commercial cattle along with the land.

Estimated value is over $2.5 million.

Rockefeller said the sale did not mean he was losing interest in the Santa Gertrudis breed but that he was interested in research for what he called a deep-type steer which might produce more economical beef for the table.

The Turner herd is one of the largest registered Hereford herds in the country and was started 30 years ago.

Rockefeller said he intended to keep his stock of registered Santa Gertrudis cattle and registered Hereford cattle intact, even though he is going to experiment with cross breeding for table beef.

The annual Santa Gertrudis sale brought an average of $3,313.75 per head, a total of $132,550.

Gus Worthan of the 9-Bar Ranch at Cypress, Tex., bought the top bull, WR Ricco, for $23,000.

Total revenue of the sale was slightly higher than in 1962's $131,925, an average of $3,298 a head.

However, it was considerably lower than the 1961 figure of $229,100 for a per head average of $5,727.50.

The top heifers were sold to R. D. Keene of Orlando, Fla., for $8,350. The 20 bulls sold during the event brought $82,100, an average of $4,105 each and the 20 heifers brought $50,450, an average of $2,522.50.

J. G. Flagg of Clarks, Ala., two years ago purchased the highest-priced bull ever sold at Winrock for $50,000.

Turner said he sold the ranch because he wanted to cut back on some of his business activities.

"I have tears in my eyes today," said Turner, "but I am happy that I can turn Turner ranch over to a man like Rockefeller."

J. Finley Ward, 62, a Druggist, Dies Saturday

J. Finley Ward, aged 62, well known Hope businessman, died Saturday in a local hospital. He had been ill a long time.

Mr. Ward was a retired pharmacist and one of the owners of Ward's Drug Store here.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lenna Ward, a son, Robert Edwin Ward of Schenectady, N.Y., and a brother, James Edwin Ward of Hope.

Funeral services have been tentatively set for 3 p. m. Tuesday at Herndon-Cornelius Funeral Chapel by Dr. L. T. Lawrence. Burial will be in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Active pallbearers: George Frazier, Steve Bader, Pearson Walsh, Vic Cobb, John Wilson and Royce Weisenberger. Honorary, Deacons of First Presbyterian Church and pharmacists of Hope.

JFK Plans to Visit Alabama as Scheduled

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—The advance contingent of Army riot control troops began arriving today in this racially troubled city as President Kennedy went ahead with plans to visit Alabama this weekend.

The racial situation here, in the words of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy was extremely sensitive and tense, but he said he expects the agreement reached last week between white and Negro leaders to endure.

He said that despite the weekend of bombings and rioting the truce would not be broken and the racial troubles in this Deep South city would be settled.

A top Army staff officer, Maj. Gen. Cleighton Abrams, was here to direct the military preparations necessary to throw federal reserve troops into action if needed. Abrams is the personal representative of Gen. Earle Wheeler, the Army chief of staff.

Bombings and rioting resulted in injuries to about 50 persons Saturday and Saturday night and during the predawn hours of Sunday.

Troubleshooters from the Department of Justice, meanwhile, set up headquarters in the downtown federal building, only a few blocks from the scene of the weekend disorders.

Among the advance Army men here was Brig. Gen. John T. Corley, assistant commander of the 2nd Infantry Division at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Soldiers seen in Birmingham today wore the shoulder patch of the 2nd Division. There was no immediate indication how many federal troops were being brought into the state.

The President's action in alerting federal troops brought immediate response.

Violent Death Toll Hits Eight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two traffic accidents and a drowning Sunday claimed three lives, pushing the violent death toll to eight for the week ended midnight Sunday.

The Mothers' Day deaths came to Mansfield Rice, 22, of North Little Rock; Janet Birdson, 17, of Little Rock; and Richard Rollins, 16, of Russellville.

Rice drowned while trying to swim across an abandoned bauxite pit just south of Little Rock.

Miss Birdson was killed in a traffic accident three miles west of Little Rock on state Highway 10. She was riding in a small foreign car driven by Joe C. Norton, 19, of Little Rock.

Their car collided with one driven by B. E. Adams, 38, of North Little Rock.

Rollins died in a Russellville hospital shortly after a traffic accident on state Highway 27 west of Dardanelle.

During the week three other persons drowned and two others were killed in traffic accidents.

Mrs. Noble Stroud Thomas, aged 80, a longtime resident of Washington died Saturday in a local hospital.

diate and sharp criticism from Alabama's Gov. George Wallace. City officials and Negro leaders issued strong appeals for law and order. Birmingham, like a city under siege, lay uneasily quiet after Mother's Day dawned with smoke and fire from rioting and bombing.

Helmed state troopers, city policemen and officers from numerous surrounding counties and towns patrolled the cordoned area in shifts. About 50 persons, including police officers, were injured in the rioting.

The President's action was three-pronged:

—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was ordered to alert riot-trained Army units and to deploy them in Alabama. Troops moved into Maxwell Air Force Base at Montgomery, 80 miles to the south, and at Ft. McClellan at Anniston, 60 miles to the east.

—Preliminary steps were taken for federalizing the Alabama National Guard. The papers have not been signed.

—Asst. Atty. Gen. Burke Marshall was sent back to Birmingham to consult with citizens and work with other Justice Department officials.

In other developments: —Shortly before Kennedy spoke, rifle bullets ripped into the home of two Negroes and a Negro church at Anniston, Ala.—where some of the troops were sent.

—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., head of the desegregation drive, urged discipline, restraint and nonviolence of Birmingham Negroes and insisted a shaky biracial agreement to settle the segregation dispute remained in effect.

—Mayor Albert Boutwell took a personal look at the damage and pledged, "retribution there will be—swift, stern and in full measure." Every resource, he said, was bent to apprehend those who planted the bombs.

—Wallace urged Alabama congressmen to use their influence for withdrawal of the federal troops.

—Negro leaders, including King, charged police officers with brutality. This was denied by officials.

The President pledged federal troop use in the wake of night-long rioting that followed the bombing of the Gaston Motel, a headquarters of the integration movement, and the residence of the Rev. A. D. King, a younger brother of King.

Clouds Could

necessary to stop the flight before 22 orbits are completed. If it goes the 600,000-mile route, Cooper will land in the Pacific Ocean Wednesday near Midway Island.

A final medical checkup late Sunday was "go," as everyone expected. "Gordo" Cooper took it in stride, laughing and joshing with the doctors.

Cooper has been calm, reserved, completely controlled throughout the days leading up to his historic flight.

Everything was going so well that high grade kerosene fuel was pumped into the big Atlas rocket today, a day ahead of time. It will power Cooper's Faith 7 Mercury capsule aloft. The early loading provides more time and leeway to check out other elements.

Hydrogen peroxide—which the astronaut uses to maneuver the capsule in space—also will be pumped into its reservoir and piping system and carefully observed for 12 hours in a final test for leaks.

But the lox Cooper spoke of—the highly volatile liquid oxygen that combines with the kerosene to give the atlas its kick—won't go in until 35 minutes before liftoff. That is the last component to be loaded.

Cooper's long loops around the earth may be the last Mercury flight. Next step is the Gemini two-man spacecraft and then the Apollo program aimed for the moon.

The main purpose of Cooper's flight is the quest for medical knowledge to help the space program—specifically, what happens when a man rides weightless and virtually immobile that long.

The Russians have orbited two men longer, but they have been close-mouthed about what they found out. U. S. space scientists feel it is vital to find out for themselves.

Other major experiments include a complicated photography program, release of a flashing light globe during the flight, a tethered balloon to determine the drag at 100 to 170 miles altitude, and an attempt to sight a three-million candlepower light shined up at him from South Africa.

Dodgers Make Like a Team That's Aroused

By JOE REICHLER Associated Press Sports Writer

It may have been the vote of confidence club president Walter O'Malley gave to manager Walter Alston last week.

Or it may have been the mere sight of the hated Giants who heaped so much humiliation upon them last October.

Whatever it was, it worked wonders on the Los Angeles Dodgers.

From a dispirited, bungling crew of second divisioners, the Dodgers became an aroused team over the weekend, capped Sunday by their third straight triumph over the Giants.

Sunday's 6-5 victory was an even sweeter triumph than Friday night's 2-1 squeaker or even Saturday night's 8-0 shutout in which Sandy Koufax pitched his majestic no-hitter.

The Dodgers found themselves on the short end of a 5-2 score when they came to bat in the eighth inning.

Jack Fisher, seeking his fourth straight victory, hadn't let a runner beyond first base since the second inning. But Fisher didn't last the inning as the Dodgers erupted for four runs to sweep the three-game series and edge into fourth place, only two games behind the leading Giants.

St. Louis advanced to within a half game of the top, despite a doubleheader split with Pittsburgh. The Cardinals won the opener 2-1 in 11 innings and the Pirates took the second 4-3.

Houston's young Colts nipped the Chicago Cubs 2-1 in 10 innings for a sweep of the four-game series. Philadelphia swept both ends of a doubleheader from Milwaukee, 4-3 in 11 innings and 6-5 in 12. The New York Mets gained a split with the Cincinnati Reds, winning the second game 13-12 after the Reds had taken the opener 3-0.

In the American League, New York shut out Baltimore 2-0; Cleveland routed Detroit 9-3 and Kansas City defeated Minnesota

2-1. Rain washed out the second A's-Twins game.

Red Sox Are Counting on Young Hurler

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer
Something over two decades ago, the Boston Red Sox had a good-looking young rookie out of San Diego's Herbert Hoover High School named Ted Williams. He became quite a hitter.

Today, the Red Sox have a handsome young rookie out of Herbert Hoover High who shapes up as quite a pitcher—Dave Morehead.

The hard-throwing 19-year-old right-hander kept his perfect record intact Sunday, winning his third straight with a 4-1 decision over the Washington Senators. He allowed just one hit—a home run with two out in the first inning to Chuck Hinton.

The victory gave Boston a split of the Fenway Park doubleheader. Washington took the opener 3-2 on Don Lock's 14th inning homer.

Elsewhere in the American League—the Los Angeles Angels ended the first-place Chicago White Sox' winning string at seven winning 7-6 in 12 innings after being bombed by the Sox 14-2 in the first game of their doubleheader; Jim Bouton fired a two-hitter as the New York Yankees beat the Baltimore Orioles 2-0 with two unearned runs; the Cleveland Indians whipped the Detroit Tigers 9-3, and the Kansas City Athletics nipped the Minnesota Twins 2-1 before the second game of their doubleheader was rained out.

In the National League—the Los Angeles Dodgers shaded the San Francisco Giants 6-5 for a three-game sweep; the Houston Colts made it four straight over the Chicago Cubs, 2-1 in 10 innings; the Philadelphia Phillies took two from the Milwaukee Braves, 4-3 in 11 innings and 6-5 in 12; St. Louis and Pittsburgh split, the Cards winning 2-1 in 12 innings and the Pirates coming back 4-3; and the New York Mets outscored Cincinnati 13-12 after dropping their opener 3-0.

Leon Wagner's leadoff triple followed by Lee Thomas' double gave the Angels their overtime victory against the streaking White Sox.

Floyd Robinson's three hits and three runs batted in paced Chicago in the opener, won by right-hander John Buzhardt.

Bouton, making his first start of the year, retired the first 19 Orioles in order before Jerry Adair singled in the seventh. Brooks Robinson got the other Baltimore hit, in the eighth.

The Indians clinched things against Detroit with a five-run fourth inning. Woody Held connected for a double and triple good for three RBI and Ellis Bur-ton added a homer for Cleveland.

Union Election

WYNNE, Ark. (AP)—Some 270 employees of the Addison Shoe Corp. plant at Wynne are to vote next Friday on whether to affiliate with the United Shoe Workers Union (AFL-CIO). The National Labor Relations Board called the election.

pushed to within 1½ games of Chicago by beating out Minnesota with an unearned run in the eighth.

Eudora Election

EUDORA, Ark. (AP)—A special election has been set June 4 on a $200,000 bond issue for an expansion program that would more than double the size of the Eudora Garment Corp. factory. The bonds would be issued under Act 9 of 1960. Plant officials said 151 more jobs would be created and 21,000 feet of floor space added by expansion. The plant now employs 103 persons. The bonds would be repaid by rentals with no tax involved.

Shell engineer uses stethoscope to help detect hard-to-hear knock. Super Shell fights both knock and spark plug misfire to give you a quiet, smooth-running engine.

SMOOTH, QUIET ENGINE

How 3 of Super Shell's 9 working ingredients work together to help keep your engine running smooth and quiet

SHELL scientists will tell you that a good gasoline should fight both engine knock and spark plug misfire to give you a quiet, smooth-running engine.

That's why the men who make Super Shell gasoline always include TCP[®], Alkylate and Anti-knock mix as three of its nine working ingredients.

Here's what these ingredients do to help Super Shell make your car work better.

TCP works to fight spark plug misfire

Spark plug misfire means exactly what it sounds like. The plug misses—it doesn't fire properly. And instead of purring smoothly, your engine sputters and falters—loses power and wastes gasoline.

Combustion deposits are often to blame. When engine temperatures go up, these deposits can conduct electricity—actually short-circuit your spark plugs and take them right out of the act.

Super Shell's TCP works by actually altering the chemical nature of the deposits.

For a quiet, smooth-running engine, fill up at the clean white pump... now at all 15 N. E. Jones Oil Company stations in the Texarkana-Hope-Ashdown area.

Your spark plugs fire the way they should—and you get a smooth-running engine.

Alkylate works to fight high-speed knock

High-speed knock isn't too well known. That's because it's most likely to occur at turnpike speeds, and road noises often make it difficult to hear. Our picture shows one way Shell engineers listen for high-speed knock.

But even though you may not always hear it, high-speed knock can pound away at pistons and lead to costly damage.

Shell scientists have known about high-speed knock for a long time—ever since they pioneered the development of Alkylate to help control knock in aircraft engines. That was over 20 years ago. Today, Alkylate works to help Super Shell gasoline give you a quiet, smooth-running engine at high speeds.

Anti-knock mix works to fight ordinary knock

Most people have heard ordinary knock. Sounds kind of like metal tapping against metal.

Super Shell's Anti-knock mix is so powerful that just a teaspoonful per gallon can boost knock resistance dramatically—actually increase octane rating by a full five numbers.

Anti-knock mix works by helping your fuel-air mixture burn smoothly. Each piston gets a firm, smooth push. And you get a smooth, quiet engine.

Super Shell has 9 working ingredients to make your car work better

Smooth quiet performance is just one of the benefits you get from Super Shell. And the ingredients you've read about are just three of Super Shell's 9 working ingredients. Why not take a moment now to read about the other six—what they are and what they do to help your car work better.

Platformate works to give you extra mileage. It actually packs about four percent extra mileage into every gallon of Super Shell.

Cat-cracked gasoline works to give smooth power.

Butane works to give you fast starts.

Pentane mix works to give you smooth warm-ups.

Gum preventive works to help carburetors stay clean inside.

Anti-icer (added in cold weather) works to help check carburetor icing stalls.

Now you know what each of Super Shell's 9 working ingredients does to help make your car work better. Why not try a tankful soon? Just drive up to the clean white pump and ask the man for Super Shell.
